

Martin Palecek is an Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Hradec Kralove, specializing in the philosophy of social sciences, cultural anthropology, and cognitive sciences. He earned his Ph.D. from Charles University in Prague and was a Fulbright-Masaryk Fellow at Emory University, where he collaborated with leading experts in Philosophy of Social Sciences and Cognitive Science of Religion.

Palecek is a distinguished member of the editorial board of the Journal of Philosophy of Social Sciences and a Fellow of the Royal Anthropological Institute (RAI). He is also an active member of the European Network for the Philosophy of the Social Sciences (ENPOSS). With an extensive list of publications to his name,

Palecek is currently working on a book titled "The Anxious Mind: Conspiracy Theories, Misinformation, Omens, and the Search for Meaning."